

Snow Drops

Snow white flowers, a stem that's green,

Nice bright sightings white as clouds

Outside in the winter, under the snow and frosted moon,

Where wind passes through their thin petals,

Dancing like beautiful fairies in the icy air,

Rough snow covers the dazzling, white flowers.

On a snowy, winter day

People walk past, admiring the outstanding flowers

Shepton wouldn't be the same without Snow Drops, that's why they are so special
